NURTURING CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

NSS, or the "National Service Scheme," operates under the motto "Not me but you," encouraging students to contribute their services to the community and the nation. This initiative represents the third dimension of education, fostering attitudes of social responsibility and a deeper understanding of cultural and national values. NSS activities play a crucial role in motivating students to engage in social work, promoting a sense of nationality. Special camps and rallies addressing social issues expose students to the community's needs, involving them in problem-solving processes. Events such as medical health checkups and blood donation camps instill a sense of social responsibility, while residential camps cultivate competency in group living and community sharing. Participation in various activities also nurtures leadership qualities, contributing to national and social harmony.

The college boasts an active NSS unit led by Program Officer Dr. Neeti Pandey. This unit is actively involved in numerous activities both within and outside the college. General NSS activities include awareness rallies, cleanliness drives, and blood donation camps. Plantation initiatives within and outside the college premises, as well as NSS special camps, are organized annually. These collective efforts not only contribute to the development of students' personalities through community service but also demonstrate the NSS unit's commitment to fostering a spirit of social responsibility and civic engagement.
